Dedicated to . . .

C. W. DAVIS

Mr. Davis,

It is by your untiring efforts that Chapel Hill High School has taken its place among the better schools of North Carolina. Not only has your loyalty and guidance realized for us a beautiful, functional building, but also has inspired in us the pride of learning and the dignity of hard work. To you, our friend, we dedicate this book.

Class History

1952 and after three long but happy years our dreams became a reality—we were Seniors! That which had once seemed in the hazy future and beyond our grasp had at last become ours. Then came 1953 and the realization that our four-mile climb was almost completed and that soon we would be leaving. And looking over the past years, we begin to reminisce—to wish our high school days were just beginning instead of about to end.

We remember our first glimpses of CHHS as freshmen—meager, lowly freshmen, bewildered by our new life. How grown up we felt as we proudly explained to our friends that we were taking Latin, algebra, and science. How well we remember Mr. Bill Flowers and general science. After a while the upper-classmen began to recognize us and we felt more than ever a pride toward our new school. Jo Ann Jones was class president and Eddie Mann led us in the Student Council that year.

By our sophomore year we possessed complete self-confidence. We had been proclaimed one of the best classes in school and we worked hard to keep the honor. The construction of our new school was finally begun and we all had to put up with the endless racket of drills, hammers, and machinery. Biology was a new experience—bisecting grasshoppers—what fun! We began more and more to participate in school affairs and to try our hand at leadership. We were already excited about the Junior-Senior and began making plans—none of which materialized. Under the leadership of George Cline, class president, we sponsored two very successful dances. R. B. Fitch, Student Council President, worked long and hard to introduce the Honor System into CHHS.

Then we became Juniors—upperclassmen at last. We set out immediately making plans toward our Junior-Senior, our one big aim since we had been freshmen. Our enthusiastic President, Jimmy Goodwin, appointed committees and soon we were on our way with big ideas and a treasury full of money. Magazine subscriptions, flowers, and the Leap Year Dance—our Junior year was full of work, parties, fun and activities. The Honor System was set up for the first time and functioned well under the capable leadership of Charlie Green, Chief Justice. The Student Council had another prosperous year with Don Christopher as president. Toward the middle of the year our new school was finally finished. The Junior-Senior we had looked forward to for such a long time finally came. Our theme was “Gay Paris” and the dance was acclaimed a success by everyone. Then came graduation and we were faced with the realization that another class had left and now we were the Seniors.

Finally the long awaited day arrived—our first day as Seniors. How mighty and proud we felt as we walked down the halls. But with our new Seniority came responsibility. We were on the paper, annual, Student Council; leaders in clubs and found they all took a lot of time and patience. The work came faster than ever, and the time flew. We were in the midst of calling cards and invitations. Then our rings arrived, and we became real Seniors at last. For a while there were bitter feuds as to who would sit on the front row in the auditorium with neither giving in peacefully. The boys were playing their last year in high school athletics. Under the guidance of Jimmy Goodwin the Honor System went into a second successful year. Alex Shepard was class president, and Coleman Gentry led the Student Council.

Now that our Senior year is drawing to an end and we will soon be graduating, we are left only with memories of the past four years. We hope that we will become citizens of which CHHS will be proud, and we hope that we have in some way contributed something which will be of value to those who follow.

You wouldn't believe it, but . . .

"Hello, everybody! This is Suella Parsnips, known in private life as Anna T. Proctor, reporting to you on the '53 Graduates of CHHS. Some of those graduates have really excelled in interesting, even 'unusual' professions.

"My first news item is about Carolyn Green. She and her missionary husband are stationed in Africa, but I understand that she is having a hard time holding on to her red hair while trying to convert Africa's savages.

"Pat Cook has invented an 'all-day' cigarette, a definite economy move, but I understand that Royce Tripp, a wheel at Liggett-Meyers, has had a court injunction issued to force her to stop manufacturing them.

"A renowned scientist, Dorothy Greulach, has received the Nobel Prize for her amazing theory, 'Perpetual Motion!' Remember how she used to practice her theory back in '53?

"Sherry 'Shoot 'um Up' Lewis is the head of an organization designed to help pro-basketball hopefuls.

"Our contribution to politics is two senators, Jimmy and Annie M. Goodwin. They've been busy 'lobbying,' trying to reduce the age limit for presidential candidates, since none of the available women will admit to being 35 or over.

"Don Hall and his wife, Tish, are conducting swimming lessons for the frogs in Morgan's Creek.

"The new coach of CHHS, Alex Shepard, and his wife, Joe, are busy raising their own team. They've got a good start—two sets of twin boys!

"Billy Powell is really a 'local boy who made good.' This is his third season as pitcher for the Yankees.

"Cat Berryhill, who is the newly-crowned Miss America, has hired Meredith Stringfield as her private secretary for autographs. I remember that Cat always had trouble writing her name.

"Joanna Scroggs is a concert violinist in Vienna. Rumor has it that she and her accompanist husband are coming to the U. S. for a tour, but they are mum.

"Charlotte LeClair has finally realized her life-long ambition. She is a can-can dancer in a Hollywood night club.

"Raymond Pandergrass is a professor at UNC. He's teaching a course on 'How to Survive an Automobile Wreck.'

"Jeannie Fallon is living the life of a Marine's wife—and she seems to love it.

"Pete Riley, Bobby Carroll, and Hoyt Durham are instructors in agriculture at CHHS. In their spare time they are truck farmers—you know, they farm on a truck.

"Most of the other girls in the class have settled down with families. Some of these 'domestic' ones are Billie McFarling Johnson, Peggy Newton Barber, Bonnie Hackney Land, and Peggy Bowden Riggsbee.

"As for me, well, when I'm not writing gossip columns, I'm busy raising my six little curly-headed Proctor boys!"

Last Will and Testament

We, the class of '53, being of sound mind and body, do hereby give, bestow, and bequeath the following, and do declare this our last will and testament:

Article I—We, the graduating class, do leave Chapel Hill High School in hopes of seeking higher education and the fields of our endeavor, and evading our local Draft Board, No. 69.

Article II—We, Grady Sturdivant, Ralph Blackwood, and Claytor Brewer, do hereby leave.

Article III—I, Charlotte LeClair, do leave my earrings to anyone who has a flair for jewelry.

Article IV—I, Joanna Scroggs, bequeath all my talents to Martha Ann Cheek, in hopes that she can use them as well as I.

Article V—We, Sherry Lewis and Lloyd McKnight, leave Peggy and Anzenette with regrets.

Article VI—I, Bob Baker, leave my ability to get into mischief to Harvey Stoffer.

Article VII—I, Jean Hinshaw, bequeath my ability to flirt to Linda Lloyd.

Article VIII—I, Melba Sturdivant, do hereby leave my "better half," Jackie Partin, to keep CHHS entertained.

Article IX—I, Coleman Gentry, leave my Thursday ties to the future Student Council presidents.

Article X—I, Pat Cook, do leave my cashmeres to Patsy Poythress.

Article XI—I, Tish Harrer, leave my love of swimming to Bryte Abernethy.

Article XII—I, Alex Shepard, do leave my practice pants to my protege, Donald Ray, provided that he doesn't change them all season.

Article XIII—I, Margrue Mayse, bequeath my Library post to Dorothy Moore.

Article XIV—I, Ann Gobbel, leave my flair for men in red convertibles to Kristy Pendergraft.

Article XV—I, Ronnie Mann, Gods gift to womankind, do leave CHHS in hopes that not too many girls' hearts will be broken.

Article XVI—I, Barbara Bennett, bequeath my quiet and reserved ways to Frank Carlisle in respect for the rest of the CHHS students and teachers.

Article XVII—I, Larry Cheek, do leave my incessant chattering to Merle Crittenton.

Article XVIII—I, Meredith Stringfield, leave my knitting ability to all the girls who have beaux with big feet.

Article XIX—I, Catherine Berryhill, bequeath my winning smile to the Ipana Toothpaste Co.

Article XX—We, Anna Tilson and Peggy Bowden, leave Mac and Tommy with limitations—

Article XXI—I, Billy Powell, do regretfully leave Miss Lewis.

Article XXII—I, Joe Padgette, leave with a sigh that I actually met my deadlines!!

Club Officers

The Library Club

Roxada Harward	President
Ann Lou Jamerson	Vice President
Cecelia Husbands	Secretary
Dorothy Moore	Treasurer

MEMBERS: Barbara Blackburn, Serena Blake, Sally Burket, Rupert Bynum, Sarah Cole, Peggy Crain, Mary Frances Davis, Nancy Davis, Shirley Duke, Margaret Evans, Donna Fowler, Nancy Gentry, Betty Howell, Sophie Martin, Margrue Mayse, Frances Morrow, Peggy Newton, Joan Norwood, Edna Parrish, Barbara Pendergraft, Kristi Pendergraft, Kay Proctor, Connie Ridout, Alice Shelton, Mary Shepard, Gene Smith, Lelia Snipes, Ellen Sparrow, Barbara Bennett.

Truly unsung heroes, the people of the library club are indispensable to this important service to the student body. Daily they stay on the job and perform the many routines necessary to the smooth functioning of the library. They shelve thousands of books, check and stamp the heavy flow of mail, write hundreds of overdue notices, deliver these throughout the school, help with the housekeeping, assist with the mechanical processing of books, including pasting, marking, shellacking, stamping, etc., check the large daily attendance and sign permits. The display cases are arranged usually by club members.

This year has been an unusually busy one, in that it is the first full year in the beautiful new quarters, in addition to the fact that the local club was host to the State Convention of the North Carolina High School Library Association which now includes club from sixty schools totaling nearly twelve hundred student assistants from school libraries in North Carolina. Early in September the members of the club assisted Mrs. Peacock in entertaining two hundred librarians from North Carolina who were here for a Conference of School and Children's Librarians.

Court*

Queen

MEREDITH STRINGFIELD

For the first time in the history of the Hillife the Beauty Court was selected by judges rather than by the student body. From twelve contestants chosen by the Hillife staff, the judges, Kay Kyser and Georgia Carroll, picked these eight girls to represent the beauty and charm found in Chapel Hill High School.
